

LARGER CIRCULATION
THAN ANY PAPER IN SHERMAN COUNTY.

The Goodland Register

ADVERTISE
YOUR BUSINESS
IN THE REPUBLIC.

Volume VI. Number VIII.

GOODLAND, KANSAS, OCTOBER 16, 1891.

$1.50 Per Year.

FOSTER, the Weather Prophet, predicts for October very cold weather with frequent storms and blizzards. If you wish to prepare for the cold weather, go to

DAWSON'S

There you will find the largest assortment and lowest prices. Their dry goods department is replete with new goods.

An immense line of flannels, Canton flannels, underwear, shawls, blankets, ladies' and misses' jackets and long coats, gloves, mittens, hats, caps, clothing, boots and shoes, arctics and flannel-lined shoes.

Give us a call and we will convince you that it pays to trade with us. Yours truly

J. B. DAWSON.

"Twill make you smile too, to see the new stock of MITCHELL and SOUTH BEND

FARM WAGONS,

Havanna Press, Drills, Harrows, Plows and Buggies for sale by

C. H. Barlow.

ROAD CARTS TILL YOU CAN'T REST.

A full line of lumber etc.

Call on Barlow for any of these lines, he will treat you white.

This Space Belongs

TO

J. A. ROBERTS,

"The Hardware Man."

Keep your eye on it.

THE SHERMAN CO. BANK.

Goodland, Kansas.

Cash Capital, $25,000.

OFFICIAL COUNTY DEPOSITORY.

Authorized by Bank Commissioner to commence business July 2nd. Subject to state supervision.

OFFICERS.—
M. B. TOMBLIN, President.
W. R. MORTON, Vice-President.
J. M. JORDAN, Cashier.
A. F. KEITH, Secretary.
DIRECTORS.—
H. Hutchinson, Wm. McLellan, W. R. Morton, E. Sager.
A. L. Tomblin, J. M. Jordan, A. F. Keith, F. I. Lancaster.
Geo. Maxwell, M. B. Tomblin, Jno. Fitzgerald.

C. P. RUSSELL, President. H. E. DONCARLOS, Cashier.

COMMERCIAL BANK,

(Successor to Russell Brothers Bank.)

Paid up Capital $25,000.

Corner of Boulevard and Tenth Street, Goodland, Kansas.

THE CAPITAL NEWS

The United States Supreme Court Now in Session.

The Behring Sea Trouble—The Validity of the McKinley Tariff Act—An Alliance Man to be Appointed on the Inter-State Commerce Commission.

WASHINGTON, D. C. Oct. 15.—The

United States supreme court opened its October term today with the usual dignified formalities which never fail to take a deep impression upon the minds of all visitors, no matter how often they may have witnessed the same grand simplicity. If such a term be allowable. There was considerable disappointment because the absence of Chief Justice Fuller, who is at the bedside of a sick daughter in Chicago, and of Justice Gray, who is just convalescing from an attack of typhoid fever, made necessary the postponement for a time of a number of cases considered to be of too much importance to be decided by anything less than a full bench. Among these cases is what is known as the Seward case, which involves several of the questions in dispute between Great Britain, and the United States as to the rights of the latter in Behring sea, the case involving the validity of the McKinley tariff act, and that to determine the constitutionality of the act shutting the lotteries one of the main. The session starts with a large number of cases upon the docket than the court has ever before had, and although the act creating the new circuit or appellate court was intended to relieve the supreme court of some of the cases crowded at the same session will add much more to its labors than the new court can possibly relieve it of. The Indian land claims cases referred to the court of claims, of which there are some thirty, are apparently to the supreme court. So also are cases from the recently established land claims court. These cases will not increase the docket of the supreme court at this term, but by next year this time it is predicted that it will be almost swamped with them. It is evident that something has got to be done in the near future to relieve the supreme court, or it will take the greater portion of an ordinary year time to get a decision on a case not important enough to be advanced on the docket.

The movement to secure the vacancy on the interstate commerce commission made by the death of W. L. Bruce for an alliance man, has at last crystallized, and the name of Mr. D. P. Dawson, of South Carolina, has been presented to the president, endorsed by President Polk, and the national alliance, and the state alliances of Georgia, West Virginia, Louisiana, North Carolina, and Michigan, and it is said that more endorsements are to come from the other state alliances. Mr. Dawson is a native of Georgia, who lost his seat in congress because of his opposition to the principle advocated by the alliance, but been the supposed favorite of Mr. Harrison up to the advent of an alliance candidate. The appointment of Mr. Clements would, it is said, be regarded by the alliance as a direct and intentional affront to that organization. Many people believe that if no other candidate is put forward by the alliance, and Mr. Dawson receives the endorsement of the state alliances that his friends expect him to get, that he will secure the prize. It is regarded by many as only just, that the alliance's alliance should have a representative on the board of Commissioners.

The next thing Secretary Foster knows he will have acquired the fame of a real, genuine reformer. He told some New York politicians, members of his party, who told him he had better give up making changes in the New York customhouse that would eject the party workers, that efficient service at the custom house is the best political move that any party can inaugurate, and I believe that the mercantile, irrespective of partisan considerations, will agree with me. Now, Mr. Foster has only to act up to his talk to make a great reputation among those who have business relations with the New York house.

Mr. Harrison has refused to issue an order allowing government employees whose regular leave of absence has all been used up to go home to vote without loss of pay. He could not have issued such an order without violating the law, but all the same he was asked to do it.

The time for Secretary Blaine to resume his official duties has now been extended by Madame Rumor until after the fall elections, although it is difficult to discover how there can possibly be any connection between the two things.

Owing to the state campaigns, politicians are rather scarce in Washington these days, but the presence of five hundred of the most distinguished methodists in the world, who are in attendance upon the occasion, on the fence of that church, now in session here, more than reconciles our people to the absence of the politicians. The conference has been a great success, and everything had so far passed off smoothly, although the refusal of some of the hotels to accommodate the colored brethren for a time threatened to make trouble, but quarters were found for them elsewhere.

PEOPLE'S CANDIDATES

The People's Party Meet and Nominate a Winning Ticket.

A Full Ticket Put in the Field—The Resolutions—The Sub-Treasury and the Wage Worker.

The people's party county convention convened Saturday October 10, in the court house in Goodland, at 10 a. m. to nominate a county ticket.

H. S. Groves, chairman of the county central committee called the meeting to order and read the call. C. W. Whitmore was chosen temporary chairman, and G. H. Hubanks temporary secretary.

J. H. Calkins, C. A. Fitch, and G. H. Austin were chosen committee on permanent organization and order of business.—W. J. Koon, Wm. Mitchell and L. Houston, Messrs. Sexton and Jones, on credentials. The convention then adjourned to meet at 1 o'clock.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

There was a full house in the afternoon all the seats were filled, and many spectators were standing in the entrance and aisles. The committee on permanent organization and order of business made their report which was adopted. The temporary organization was made permanent. The committee on credentials made their report.

Resolved, That we believe that "honesty is the best policy" in politics, as well as in business, in public, as well as in private life, and that we are in favor of the payment of all just obligations, national, state and individual.

Resolved, That we are in favor of a "square deal" and while we desire reasonable freight rates and fair prices for our products we also desire in the prosperity of railroad employees and desire to see all industrial classes receive "living wages," and that we are for the oppressed against the oppressors.

Resolved, That we are in favor of the survivors of the late war, and that the government should in some way compensate them for the depreciation value of the money in which they received their pay, and which is now repaid by the government to the treasury.

Resolved, That we are in favor of the promotion of harmony in our ranks, and we will endeavor to secure our best interests, and we will endeavor to secure our best interests, and we will endeavor to secure our best interests.

Resolved, That we are in favor of the promotion of harmony in our ranks, and we will endeavor to secure our best interests, and we will endeavor to secure our best interests, and we will endeavor to secure our best interests.

Resolved, That we are in favor of the promotion of harmony in our ranks, and we will endeavor to secure our best interests, and we will endeavor to secure our best interests, and we will endeavor to secure our best interests.

Resolved, That we are in favor of the promotion of harmony in our ranks, and we will endeavor to secure our best interests, and we will endeavor to secure our best interests, and we will endeavor to secure our best interests.

Resolved, That we are in favor of the promotion of harmony in our ranks, and we will endeavor to secure our best interests, and we will endeavor to secure our best interests, and we will endeavor to secure our best interests.

Resolved, That we are in favor of the promotion of harmony in our ranks, and we will endeavor to secure our best interests, and we will endeavor to secure our best interests, and we will endeavor to secure our best interests.

THE BEHRING SEA TROUBLE

The Validity of the McKinley Tariff Act—An Alliance Man to be Appointed on the Inter-State Commerce Commission.

WASHINGTON, D. C. Oct. 15.—The

United States supreme court opened its October term today with the usual dignified formalities which never fail to take a deep impression upon the minds of all visitors, no matter how often they may have witnessed the same grand simplicity. If such a term be allowable. There was considerable disappointment because the absence of Chief Justice Fuller, who is at the bedside of a sick daughter in Chicago, and of Justice Gray, who is just convalescing from an attack of typhoid fever, made necessary the postponement for a time of a number of cases considered to be of too much importance to be decided by anything less than a full bench. Among these cases is what is known as the Seward case, which involves several of the questions in dispute between Great Britain, and the United States as to the rights of the latter in Behring sea, the case involving the validity of the McKinley tariff act, and that to determine the constitutionality of the act shutting the lotteries one of the main. The session starts with a large number of cases upon the docket than the court has ever before had, and although the act creating the new circuit or appellate court was intended to relieve the supreme court of some of the cases crowded at the same session will add much more to its labors than the new court can possibly relieve it of. The Indian land claims cases referred to the court of claims, of which there are some thirty, are apparently to the supreme court. So also are cases from the recently established land claims court. These cases will not increase the docket of the supreme court at this term, but by next year this time it is predicted that it will be almost swamped with them. It is evident that something has got to be done in the near future to relieve the supreme court, or it will take the greater portion of an ordinary year time to get a decision on a case not important enough to be advanced on the docket.

The movement to secure the vacancy on the interstate commerce commission made by the death of W. L. Bruce for an alliance man, has at last crystallized, and the name of Mr. D. P. Dawson, of South Carolina, has been presented to the president, endorsed by President Polk, and the national alliance, and the state alliances of Georgia, West Virginia, Louisiana, North Carolina, and Michigan, and it is said that more endorsements are to come from the other state alliances. Mr. Dawson is a native of Georgia, who lost his seat in congress because of his opposition to the principle advocated by the alliance, but been the supposed favorite of Mr. Harrison up to the advent of an alliance candidate. The appointment of Mr. Clements would, it is said, be regarded by the alliance as a direct and intentional affront to that organization. Many people believe that if no other candidate is put forward by the alliance, and Mr. Dawson receives the endorsement of the state alliances that his friends expect him to get, that he will secure the prize. It is regarded by many as only just, that the alliance's alliance should have a representative on the board of Commissioners.

The next thing Secretary Foster knows he will have acquired the fame of a real, genuine reformer. He told some New York politicians, members of his party, who told him he had better give up making changes in the New York customhouse that would eject the party workers, that efficient service at the custom house is the best political move that any party can inaugurate, and I believe that the mercantile, irrespective of partisan considerations, will agree with me. Now, Mr. Foster has only to act up to his talk to make a great reputation among those who have business relations with the New York house.

Mr. Harrison has refused to issue an order allowing government employees whose regular leave of absence has all been used up to go home to vote without loss of pay. He could not have issued such an order without violating the law, but all the same he was asked to do it.

The time for Secretary Blaine to resume his official duties has now been extended by Madame Rumor until after the fall elections, although it is difficult to discover how there can possibly be any connection between the two things.

Owing to the state campaigns, politicians are rather scarce in Washington these days, but the presence of five hundred of the most distinguished methodists in the world, who are in attendance upon the occasion, on the fence of that church, now in session here, more than reconciles our people to the absence of the politicians. The conference has been a great success, and everything had so far passed off smoothly, although the refusal of some of the hotels to accommodate the colored brethren for a time threatened to make trouble, but quarters were found for them elsewhere.

The time for Secretary Blaine to resume his official duties has now been extended by Madame Rumor until after the fall elections, although it is difficult to discover how there can possibly be any connection between the two things.

Owing to the state campaigns, politicians are rather scarce in Washington these days, but the presence of five hundred of the most distinguished methodists in the world, who are in attendance upon the occasion, on the fence of that church, now in session here, more than reconciles our people to the absence of the politicians. The conference has been a great success, and everything had so far passed off smoothly, although the refusal of some of the hotels to accommodate the colored brethren for a time threatened to make trouble, but quarters were found for them elsewhere.

The time for Secretary Blaine to resume his official duties has now been extended by Madame Rumor until after the fall elections, although it is difficult to discover how there can possibly be any connection between the two things.

Owing to the state campaigns, politicians are rather scarce in Washington these days, but the presence of five hundred of the most distinguished methodists in the world, who are in attendance upon the occasion, on the fence of that church, now in session here, more than reconciles our people to the absence of the politicians. The conference has been a great success, and everything had so far passed off smoothly, although the refusal of some of the hotels to accommodate the colored brethren for a time threatened to make trouble, but quarters were found for them elsewhere.

THE BEHRING SEA TROUBLE

The Validity of the McKinley Tariff Act—An Alliance Man to be Appointed on the Inter-State Commerce Commission.

WASHINGTON, D. C. Oct. 15.—The

United States supreme court opened its October term today with the usual dignified formalities which never fail to take a deep impression upon the minds of all visitors, no matter how often they may have witnessed the same grand simplicity. If such a term be allowable. There was considerable disappointment because the absence of Chief Justice Fuller, who is at the bedside of a sick daughter in Chicago, and of Justice Gray, who is just convalescing from an attack of typhoid fever, made necessary the postponement for a time of a number of cases considered to be of too much importance to be decided by anything less than a full bench. Among these cases is what is known as the Seward case, which involves several of the questions in dispute between Great Britain, and the United States as to the rights of the latter in Behring sea, the case involving the validity of the McKinley tariff act, and that to determine the constitutionality of the act shutting the lotteries one of the main. The session starts with a large number of cases upon the docket than the court has ever before had, and although the act creating the new circuit or appellate court was intended to relieve the supreme court of some of the cases crowded at the same session will add much more to its labors than the new court can possibly relieve it of. The Indian land claims cases referred to the court of claims, of which there are some thirty, are apparently to the supreme court. So also are cases from the recently established land claims court. These cases will not increase the docket of the supreme court at this term, but by next year this time it is predicted that it will be almost swamped with them. It is evident that something has got to be done in the near future to relieve the supreme court, or it will take the greater portion of an ordinary year time to get a decision on a case not important enough to be advanced on the docket.

The movement to secure the vacancy on the interstate commerce commission made by the death of W. L. Bruce for an alliance man, has at last crystallized, and the name of Mr. D. P. Dawson, of South Carolina, has been presented to the president, endorsed by President Polk, and the national alliance, and the state alliances of Georgia, West Virginia, Louisiana, North Carolina, and Michigan, and it is said that more endorsements are to come from the other state alliances. Mr. Dawson is a native of Georgia, who lost his seat in congress because of his opposition to the principle advocated by the alliance, but been the supposed favorite of Mr. Harrison up to the advent of an alliance candidate. The appointment of Mr. Clements would, it is said, be regarded by the alliance as a direct and intentional affront to that organization. Many people believe that if no other candidate is put forward by the alliance, and Mr. Dawson receives the endorsement of the state alliances that his friends expect him to get, that he will secure the prize. It is regarded by many as only just, that the alliance's alliance should have a representative on the board of Commissioners.

The next thing Secretary Foster knows he will have acquired the fame of a real, genuine reformer. He told some New York politicians, members of his party, who told him he had better give up making changes in the New York customhouse that would eject the party workers, that efficient service at the custom house is the best political move that any party can inaugurate, and I believe that the mercantile, irrespective of partisan considerations, will agree with me. Now, Mr. Foster has only to act up to his talk to make a great reputation among those who have business relations with the New York house.

Mr. Harrison has refused to issue an order allowing government employees whose regular leave of absence has all been used up to go home to vote without loss of pay. He could not have issued such an order without violating the law, but all the same he was asked to do it.

The time for Secretary Blaine to resume his official duties has now been extended by Madame Rumor until after the fall elections, although it is difficult to discover how there can possibly be any connection between the two things.

Owing to the state campaigns, politicians are rather scarce in Washington these days, but the presence of five hundred of the most distinguished methodists in the world, who are in attendance upon the occasion, on the fence of that church, now in session here, more than reconciles our people to the absence of the politicians. The conference has been a great success, and everything had so far passed off smoothly, although the refusal of some of the hotels to accommodate the colored brethren for a time threatened to make trouble, but quarters were found for them elsewhere.

The time for Secretary Blaine to resume his official duties has now been extended by Madame Rumor until after the fall elections, although it is difficult to discover how there can possibly be any connection between the two things.

Owing to the state campaigns, politicians are rather scarce in Washington these days, but the presence of five hundred of the most distinguished methodists in the world, who are in attendance upon the occasion, on the fence of that church, now in session here, more than reconciles our people to the absence of the politicians. The conference has been a great success, and everything had so far passed off smoothly, although the refusal of some of the hotels to accommodate the colored brethren for a time threatened to make trouble, but quarters were found for them elsewhere.

The time for Secretary Blaine to resume his official duties has now been extended by Madame Rumor until after the fall elections, although it is difficult to discover how there can possibly be any connection between the two things.

Owing to the state campaigns, politicians are rather scarce in Washington these days, but the presence of five hundred of the most distinguished methodists in the world, who are in attendance upon the occasion, on the fence of that church, now in session here, more than reconciles our people to the absence of the politicians. The conference has been a great success, and everything had so far passed off smoothly, although the refusal of some of the hotels to accommodate the colored brethren for a time threatened to make trouble, but quarters were found for them elsewhere.

C. M. MILLISACK.

OUR FALL STOCK

OF

GOODS

ARE NOW IN.

An immense stock of Dry Goods, Notions, Clothing, Hats, Gloves, Mittens, and Gents Furnishings.

We take pleasure and pride, in calling your attention to every department of our stock. Especially to our line of Ribbons and Silks of the very best quality and price, will sell them.

We always have a full stock of staple and Fancy GROCERIES at bed rock prices.

Call and look over our Stock of Goods. It will do you good.

C. M. MILLISACK, Goodland, Kans.

"The Farmer's Hardware Store"

George Hess, Proprietor.

We keep a full line of shelf and heavy hardware, tinware and cutlery.

We invite inspection of our elegant "Acorn Stoves," both heating stoves, ranges and cook stoves.

We have just received a large invoice of new goods and will sell at Rock Bottom Prices.

We are grateful for the liberal patronage extended to us by our numerous customers, and hope to deserve your continual confidence.

CALL in and see us, we will treat you white and give you a square deal.

GEORGE HESS.

ABSTRACTS!

We are owners of a Complete Set of Abstracts of Title to All Real Property in SHERMAN COUNTY.

We have "Tyler's System" of ABSTRACTS, and with Ten years' experience in this line we are enabled to do work correctly. Our books are the most complete of any system known. They show all Transfers, Judgments, Mechanics Liens, Wills, Affidavits, Probate matters, and all instruments of any nature which in any way affect the title in the land, AND ARE KEPT UP TO DATE.

If you have any work in this line it will pay you to call on us as there is nothing so much importance to you as to know just how the title to your property stands.

RUSSELL & DONCARLOS, Abstractors.

PRIZE WINNERS.

TWO FIRST PREMIUMS AT THE FAIR.

First Premiums for Best Collection, and First Premium on Largest Collection of Photographs.

This shows conclusively where you will find first-class work. Give us your work and also a call of inspection.

We do viewing as well as portrait work. Yours to serve—

D. G. CLARK.

THE CITY ROLLER MILLS

Located at Goodland, Kansas, has New Machinery Throughout.

We are ready to grind your wheat and give you the best quality Flour. Everything is new and of the latest and most improved machinery. We solicit the patronage of Sherman and surrounding counties.

R. W. FINLEY & Co. Props.

THE LATEST, ARISTO.

They Take The Cake.

When you want something that is fine be sure and call on Reynolds, at the art Studio. He is using the new ARISTO paper exclusively, and his work is far superior to anything that has been turned out in the west. Call and be convinced.

ENCOURAGING.

George—How are you getting on in your country at Poulson's Market?

Richard—Oh, pretty well; her dog now wags its tail when he sees me come into the room.

ENCOURAGING.

George—How are you getting on in your country at Poulson's Market?

Richard—Oh, pretty well; her dog now wags its tail when he sees me come into the room.

ENCOURAGING.